Happy New Year!

“Castaway” Peter Williams Ascends to Power

By Steve Busalacchi

In yet another bloodless coup, Madison South installed a new president. Anybody who is resourceful enough to survive seven days on a Caribbean island without any communication has what it takes to follow in the footsteps of outgoing President Rob Gooze.

As one of Rob’s last and most intriguing schemes, he collected interesting facts about 33 club members and then sponsored a contest to see who could correctly link the antic with the Rotarian. Katie Balley took the prize by correctly matching a whopping, six members.

But was it really such a surprise that Jason

Khodadad received an offside penalty for vomiting on the football field? Who else, but Alan Selene, to share a bottle of Tequila with Frankie Valli and the Four Seasons? Why wouldn’t officer-to-be George

Silverwood be the college kid who did a radio show with one of the Zucher brothers? (Remember Police Story?)

The level of expertise in the club is rather extraordinary, though: Actress, Lisa Gits, starring as Shirley Temple in a grade school play, John Callaway commandeer ing a limousine, Jim Kanvik the dance instructor and Janet Johnson the snake killer. Of course, I never pegged Kevin Pachucki as a flasher, but attending a week of college classes in his bathrobe has to make you wonder. But hey, if you got it...

Then, there were the more notable accomplishments. Bob Vanden Burgt performing at Carnegie Hall, Dick Rehberg flying 150 flights over the North Pacific in a "Super Connie" and Pat Fleming serving as a City tion, now that he's retiring. No word on whether we'll be able to contact him as he carries out his presidential duties somewhere in the Caribbean. He'll most likely be sitting on the beach in his bathrobe, drinking Tequila while listening to Frankie Valli. Janet will be at his side to ward off snakes.

Note: For Rotary's new year we have the theme... "LEAD THE WAY." As was pointed out by President Peter, in his acceptance speech, this theme is very indicative of our Club. It is a privilege to report on your accomplishments both in the Club and in your lives. -ED
